What is this conference about? Who should attend?

About this conference...

Invitation, Formation and Service are three marks of a healthy, Christian community. We invite seekers to join this community. This event offers programs of faith formation to nourish and strengthen members, as we send them into the world to serve.

For thirteen years, the Whitaker School of Theology has offered this annual stewardship event to explore the many different aspects of becoming the household of God.

Who should attend?

Lay people, clergy, vestry members, trustees, educators, other church leaders, stewardship team members and church members who seek ways to see God in the stewardship of the "household."

If you wonder...

- √ What it means to be faithful?
- √ How to be faithful in the challenges of today?
- √ If you ask, "Where is God in all of this?"

...Then you should attend!
